CITY COUNCIL

Salary Ordinance Deferred Again.— Business Disposed Of.

Regular meeting of city council last night. Mayor Kye and all councilmen were present. After the minutes were read and approved business was transacted as follows:

Jackson reported the work done and being done towards a general clean-up of the city. He reported that after clean-up notices were published in the city papers that the public had done a great deal towards cleaning up about their premises. Two extra men were put to work at weed cutting but were not through yet. The committee has found that more than half the vaults in the city have not been cleaned this year. The work is still going on and will not stop until done. The inspection has resulted in the garbage haulers removing ashes and slops that had been awaiting their coming for months. Dr. Carter, the secretary of the board of health, was present and complimented the work being done by Chairman Jackson and Officer Lane. The sewer committee was granted two more weeks to prepare their report.

The claim of John Congdon, justice of the peace, for $16 20, costs in the McCurdy case, was not allowed.

Ahlert introduced an ordinance to exempt the Ahlbrand Carriage Company from city taxes for a period of ten years and to reimburse said company for city taxes assessed and paid during said period. Ordinance read the first time.

The ordinance granting the P. C. C. & St. L. railroad the right to cross Laurel street with a switch to the Ahlbrand Carriage Factory was read the second time.

The ordinance to fix the salaries of city officers was called on second reading but on motion was deferred two weeks longer.

The clerk was directed to notify C. J. Attkisson to have the sidewalk along the north side of the property owned by the late G. A. Robertson repaired.

The fire chief was authorized to purchase four comforts for the sleeping apartments of the firemen.

The Methodist Sunday School was granted the use of the city park for a picnic next Thursday.

The clerk was instructed to advertise for bids for putting in all sidewalks and curb and gutter previously ordered in and not yet put in by owners of abutting property.

The Home Telephone Company is to be notified to take up wires down on Chestnut street and Seventh street.

The street commissioner was instructed to investigate and report on low places in the brick street in front of the Burkart and Richart buildings and in front of the Postal Telegraph office on Chestnut street.

The civil engineer reported that he had made a survey of West Second street and found that according to the way the street is graded and the way the sidewalks have been put in it is eight feet narrower at Central avenue than at Pine street. The council does not deem it advisable to disturb present conditions and the engineer was so instructed. The engineer was instructed to look after some work on north Poplar street.

Henry Miller, who resides on east Sixth street, asked for some instruction to improve the street and sidewalk in front of his property.

The matter of grade on North Broadway was continued until the meeting of the Board of Public Works Thursday night.

Council adjourned at 9:15.

School Notes.

The time for examination of pupils for promotion has been changed from Saturday to Friday next so as to give teachers more time to look over the papers.

There will be no school in the afternoon of the first day of school. Time will be given to purchase books and prepare for the second day.

There will be a meeting of all the high school teachers at the high school building at 9 o'clock tomorrow forenoon.

School opens next Monday, Sept. 6th. Parents should have their children enrolled the first day. The teachers pupils and parents must cooperate in order to attain the highest possible results.

Bank Building Damaged.

Prof. E. M. Ross, of the Seymour Business College, returned home Monday afternoon from a short business trip to McHenry, Ky. He is interested in a bank there and the building it is in suffered a small fire loss last Friday morning. A dry goods store in the adjoining building and owned by S. J. Tichenor, president of the bank, was burned and was a total loss except the safe and its contents. The bank building was damaged to the extent of about $500 but the stockholders of the bank will lose nothing.

Louise Lefler, the three year old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Lefler, of Terre Haute, met with quite a serious accident Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Louise Schroeder, 120 S. Poplar street. Mrs. Lefler and her children were there visiting when the little boy in play twisted his sister's arm, fracturing the head of the radius near the elbow of the left arm. A physician was called to set the arm and the child is getting along nicely so far.

VETERANS

Some Members of Co. A, 50th Indiana, Get Together.

Fourteen of the surviving members of Co. A, 50th Indiana, met at the reunion at Brownstown last week. It was the first time that all of the fourteen had been together for over forty-four years and they thoroughly enjoyed talking over old times.

This company was mustered in Oct. 8, 1861, in this city about where the Shields school building now stands. The company originally consisted of eighty-five men, the youngest of whom, Henry Wagner, of Indianapolis, is now 65 years of age. The two oldest surviving members of the company are now 86. The smallest member of the company was John Dixon, who weighed 97 pounds when he enlisted. One of his companions jokingly wanted to carry his knapsack for him but John was able to take care of it and keep right up with the line.

Mr. Dixon's comrades asked him to give the papers some news of their meeting and to carry their regards and best wishes to their comrade, Elisha Raddick, of this city.

The fourteen members of the company at the reunion at Brownstown were: Harrison Cole, of Washington county, Isaac Denton and John Dixon, of Seymour, Daniel Empson, of near Waskom, Al Fleenor, of near Fleenor Valley, Washington county, George Humphrey, of Vallonia, George Rich, of near Vallonia, Daniel Rucker, of Kansas, James Slade, of Vallonia, Mike Waskom, of Waskom, Pierson Waskom, of near Vallonia, Allen Shepard, of Brownstown, Henry Wagner, of Indianapolis, and Moses Birdsall.

So far as is known there are ten other members of the company still living: Levi Irwin, of Scottsburg, Mr. Watson, of Austin, Asbury Benton and John Spurgeon, of the soldiers' home at Marion, George Sweetland, of Vallonia, James Hobson, who resides somewhere in the west, Cornelius McClellan, Henry Nenthrop, of near Waskom, Fred Miller, of Seymour, and Asa Birdsall, of near Switz City, in Greene county. James Hobson was here only about two months ago on a visit.

The fourteen members of the company perfected an organization and elected Daniel Empson, president, George Humphrey, vice president, James Slade, secretary. The time and place of the next meeting will be the second day of the soldiers' reunion at Brownstown next year at 10 a. m. This is the first organization the company has ever had in this country. There was an organization at Mitchell at one time but the understanding is that that organization was discontinued several years ago.

Taken Ill Suddenly.

A. V. Lawell, while at work plastering a house in the southwest part of the city Monday afternoon about 3:30, was taken very sick suddenly and had to be carried home. He was unconscious when taken home and remained that way for three hours. His condition was such that his family and friends were alarmed. He is considerably better today and it is believed will be all right again in a few days.

69 Pound Melon.

This largest melon grown in Jackson county for a long time is now the property of George Cole and is now on exhibition at his store. It weighs 69 pounds and was grown by John Andrew Reinbold, who resides on the Heller farm near Brownstown. It is of the "Triumph" variety. This big melon is worth going to see.

Second Birthday.

The second birthday of Mary Ellen Campbell, the little daughter of Mrs. Bertha Campbell, was celebrated Monday. Some of the friends were invited in to a twelve o'clock dinner in honor of the occasion.

Hay Ride.

A hay ride was given Monday evening in honor of Misses Shirley and Mary Dunden, of New Albany, who have been the guests of Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Harding since Friday.

COLLISION

A Hoosier Flyer Strikes an Automobile.

The Hoosier Flyer due at Seymour at 3:17 p. m. collided with an automobile at Stop 76, between Farmington and Chestnut Ridge, Monday afternoon. The auto was wrecked but no one was hurt.

The auto was driven by a man whose home is near Decatur, Ill. His wife and children were with him and they were on their way to Kentucky. Earlier in the afternoon they were in Seymour and inquired the road to Louisville. He was approaching the traction road from the west at Stop 76 and the corn to his right obstructed the view so he did not see the north-bound Flyer. The motorman saw the danger in time to put on the emergency brakes and slacken the speed of his car but he could not avoid a collision. The car struck the front end of the auto, wrecking that part of it. The front wheels were broken and damage was done to the front axle. The Flyer was delayed thirty minutes.

A southbound car took the automobile party on to Louisville where the man said he would secure repairs and come back for his machine. The traction people, while not to blame for the collision, gave the automobile tourists all the help they could.

The center slit in a pen is cut by a machine which seems almost to think. It consists of two chisels which barely pass each other when the slit is made, and the exact way in which the pen is poised so as to place the chisels in the proper position for cutting is one of the marvels of penmaking.

BUILT OF SOAP

Imitation of the National Capital Building.

In the Bee Hive window is a house constructed of bars of Royal Soap. It is an imitation of the Capital Building at Washington city and it took an expert to construct it. It is a good imitation and is observed by everybody who passes that way. The great columns, the big dome and other striking architectural features of the capital are well represented.

The number of bars of soap used in this soap structure that fills the big show window is the question. That is what a lot of people are guessing at and six prizes are to be awarded to the six people making the best guesses. The judgment of people, who see the structure varies a great deal as to the number of bars of soap used, but there will be some people who will doubtless get close with their guesses. But it is all guess work.

Birthday Social.

A social was given in honor of Miss Ethyl Slater, of near Scottsburg, recently reminding her of her 19 birthday.

About sixty of her friends met, and were entertained with refreshments of ice cream and cake. The evening was spent in listening to music and social amusements.

All departed at a late hour wishing Ethyl many more happy birthdays. Those present from a distance were: Miss England, of Bridgeport, Ind. and Rev. J. O. Scott, of Otisco, Ind. Miss Ethyl is the daughter of Wm. H. Slater, expostmaster of Spraytown. Mr. Slater is a reader of the Seymour REPUBLICAN, and does not see how he could get along with out it.

DIED.

HAYS:—George W. Hays, brother of Dixon M. Hays, of this city, died Monday night about eleven o'clock at his home near Pleasant Grove after an illness of about two years of tuberculosis of the throat. Age 69 years, 5 months and 14 days. He was born near Bellaire, O. on April 16, 1840. He was left an orphan at the age of five years and came to Jackson county when a mere boy and made his home with Captain John Scott, of Houston, father of Mrs. Joel H. Matlock. There he learned the cabinet maker's and carpenter's trade in Captain Scott's shop and became one of the best carpenters in the county and erected many good buildings. September 12, 1861 he enlisted in Company A, 50th Ind. regiment, at Seymour, under Captain Scott, in whose shop he had learned his trade. October 31, 1862 he was promoted to second lieutenant of the company. November 8, 1861 he was married to Lucinda E. Richards, sister of Mrs. Dixon M. Hays. Two children were born to them, Laura, who died when about sixteen years of age, and Otis, who has continued to make his home with his father. Mrs. Hays died about three years ago. Mr. Hays was one of a large family of children, only two of whom are still living, namely, William H. Hays, of Muncie, and Dixon M. Hays, of this city.

Funeral services at the Methodist church at Pleasant Grove Wednesday morning at ten o'clock. Burial at the Pleasant Grove cemetery.

CANA, OWEN TOWNSHIP.

Remember Rev. J. C. Orebaugh's regular appointment Sept. 4th and 5th.

Quite a number from here attended the Rally Day at Medora Sunday, and report an interesting meeting, also hospitality shown in abundance to other visiting churches.

E. B. Fields, of Mitchell, was visiting among friends here last week.

V. W. Gray still continues the same.

Elmer Gallion went to Orleans Friday, where he will visit his parents for a few days.

Alvie Tabor and family, of Owen county, were among our weekly visitors.

Miss Jennie Marie Dexter and little brother, Master Stuart, after an extended visit here with their grandfather, C. O. Loudon, returned to their home at Lafayette Saturday. They were accompanied by their aunt, Miss Maggie Loudon, who will visit there indefinitely.

Mrs. Cora McNelly and children returned from Frankfort Wednesday.

Flay and Sam Loudon, general stock dealers, delivered a lot of stock to Brownstown Tuesday.

ROCKFORD.

Mrs. May Denford, of Crothersville, spent Sunday here with relatives.

Mrs. Anna Siefker and children, of Seymour, spent one day last week with Mr. and Mrs. Emily.

Mr. and Mrs. Riley Goble and daughter, Lottie, spent Sunday with Mr. Shuts and family, of Seymour.

Mrs. Lila Clark and daughter, Marie, went to Indianapolis Saturday.

Miss Goldie Kendall returned to Bloomington Sunday after spending a few days with her parents.

Wm. Coppin, of Linton, is visiting relatives here.

Miss Margaret Kendall went to Indianapolis Sunday.

Willard Kendall and family, of Peters Switch spent Sunday with Chas. Combs and family.

Several from here attended the picnic at Reddington Saturday. The choir was present and received the dollar prize that was given.

The sewing society will meet Thursday with Mrs. Ella Rapp.

Simple Truth.

You can only do clean washing with clean soap. You know that coconut oil, borax and naphtha are natural cleansers and sterilizers and that they can't harm fabrics. Easy Task soap is the only one that combines these scientifically, and for that reason it cuts washday work in two and does the work better than it ever has been done. Ten cents to test it; money back quickly if it isn't what is claimed for it.

Engineer Bruce Murphy was here from Washington Monday afternoon.

Prof. J. A. Linke attended the teachers' institute at Columbus today.

BRIEF HISTORY

Of the Best Fair Held in Southern Indiana.

About six years ago this fall, two men with a very small amount of backing and an unlimited amount of nerve placed on foot a movement to have a Fair at Crothersville. At that time, as at present, there was no other fair in the county and the prospects looked good for such an undertaking.

Crothersville always was good for big crowds but had existed until that late date, 1903, without having a fair for years. The fame of her Harvest Homes were still in abundant evidence.

The two men so public spirited were F. B. Butler and Chas. Niemand and be it said that their unlimited nerve won out. True, it was only by 30 cents, but nevertheless it won and the good they did has lived after them.
The president of the first fair was David H. Waters and the secretary, F. B. Butler. Until his death the first was an ardent supporter of the fair, and the other has never ceased the efforts with which he helped the infant on its feet and the healthy growth of a child to a man is in a great measure due to him. The first year the fair was small yet a very enthusiastic gathering. They had no track, no art hall, and no—oh so many things that they do have now.

John Robinson was the first president of the Fair Association, which resulted from the efforts of the year before and Chas. Gillespie was secretary.
The next year David H. Waters was made president and Chas. Gillespie secretary. During the following two years F. B. Butler was secretary. David H. Waters served as president until his death. H. L. Bridges has served as secretary during the past and the present year. Wm. Goecker, one of the directors, is deserving also of great credit for the success of the fair.
Many other men have been helpers too, but these men have led. H.
Mitchell Lett is the present president.

And now after these six years Croth-ersville has a fair of which she is proud, a fair where no man can go and turn away dissatisfied, and this year she invites you all again. To those who saw the first feeble fair her growth will be interesting. Where once nature reigned in all her wildness men have tamed her varied forms to conform with the needs of man. Underneath the spreading boughs of the maple and the oak they have built halls that you might see the advance of man, of woman and of stock.
Where then grew the corn they have built an endless road, a half mile in length, springy in its consistency and unsurpassed in its kind. Here around and around they'll whirl during this fair, pacers, trotters and runners, in that ever uncertain chase for the money. Just back of this endless road is a little pond fed by springs. Every day that pond furnishes water to lay the dust of track. You can sit in the grandstand, that big roomy uninclosed building, 'neath trees, and see the race from the word "go" till the last "also ran" goes under the wire and never be dusty at all. From here too you can watch the free attractions that take place just across the track on the little platform built for that especial purpose.

This fair is for you, my friend, and you are most heartily welcome. To you, Mister Business Man, it offers a chance to forget the cares of your business for a day; to you, Mister Laborer, it offers a day of recreation and rest, and to you, Mister Wanderer, it offers a chance to see all your old friends in a bunch.

Sunday, the guest of Jule Wray and wife.

Those Awful Roaches.

They sneak out on the kitchen sink and look at you saucily sometimes.
Don't fret your life away dusting powders in the crevices and buying insecticides. Make a hot suds with Easy Task soap and go after that sink.
Mr. Roach and his family thrive where things are not clean, and it is hard to clean the cracks and crevices with ordinary yellow soaps—it is impossible! Easy Task soap makes roaches hunt other quarters.
It keeps moths out of woollens, too, if you use it in your laundry.

EXTENT OF DISASTER GROWS

A Private Estimate Now Places the Death List in the Catarina Valley From Saturday's Flood at 2,000.
While the Property Damage Is Estimated at No Less Than $30,000,000 — President Diaz Promptly Heads Subscription For Relief, Which Is Pouring in From All Sides.Mexico City, Aug. 31.—To relieve needs of flood sufferers, PresidentDiaz has telegraphed $30,000 to Monterey. Vice President Corral has contributed $2,000, and Ambassador Thompson $1,000 to the fund. Others are contributing liberally, a public subscription list having been opened in all parts of the republic. The fact that the Red Cross of the United States is to give aid to the sufferers has been learned here with profound satisfaction. On behalf of the United States government, the American ambassador has sent condolences to President Diaz.The National bank officials estimate the loss in the business center of Monterey by reason of Saturday's flood at $5,000,000. The loss to the big smelter and industrial plants outside the city limits will amount to as much.
The value of the eighteen blocks of buildings, mostly of poor construction, which were destroyed, is fixed at about $3,000,000. The railway losses, although not yet known, are believed to reach $4,000,000. Many of the smaller settlements in the state have been wholly destroyed or badly damaged, while the crops everywhere have been ruined. It is estimated that the total losses in the whole district affected by the cyclone and floods will approximate $30,000,000. The latest returns give the number of dead at between 1,200 and 1,400. General Reyes is said to have left his mountain retreat and is coming to the aid of the people. Reyes has been practically surrounded by government troops near the mountain town of Galeana for the past fortnight. The announcement that he is coming to Monterey has created much comment, even in the face of the great disaster; possible political complications are feared and the situation is being watched with the keenest interest.The authorities have taken prompt steps to overcome the chaotic conditions that existed for two days after the crest of the flood had been reached. Prompt measures taken to house and feed the homeless have proved effective and very few, if any, have been permitted to go hungry. Soup kitchens have been established at four different places throughout the city, where a substantial soup, as well as coffee and bread, is doled out to the needy.While the poorer classes are the greater sufferers, the flooded district principally having been located on the flats along the east side of the banks of the Santa Catarina river, they are not alone in their losses, for the rich as well were more or less inconvenienced and were compelled to leave their residences, especially in the district along the slope, which extends down to the river from the neighborhood of the Zaragoza plaza and along a line in a north to south direction.
They did not suffer the loss of furniture, as did the poorer element. The press representatives have estimated the loss of life at anywhere from 400 to 1,200 lives, but private individuals venture figures even more astounding.
A prominent capitalist in Monterey, Pedro Trevino, who is identified with many important establishments in that city, has hazarded the assertion that the death toll will eventually reach 2,000. However, it is thought this estimate may be exaggerated, owing to the excitement and chaotic conditions existing in Monterey.

ENDED IN MARRIAGE

How One Foolish Suicide Pact Turned Out in New York.New York, Aug. 31.—Frank Williamson and Florence L. Wood of Brooklyn have been married in a Brooklyn hospital, where they are recovering from bullet wounds inflicted in a suicide pact last Wednesday night. Their nearly successful attempt at death brought the young couple to their senses, and at the same time won the consent of the girl's parents to their marriage. Both Mr. and Mrs. Williamson are blind in one eye as a result of the shooting.

Peril Was Bravely Met.

New York, Aug. 31.—Fire last night destroyed the St. Malachy's Roman Catholic home at Rockaway park, Long Island. The loss is estimated at $100,000. When the alarm was sounded, the 1,000 children in the institution were marched safely down the fire escapes to the music of their fife and drum corps.The seventeenth convention of the National Association of Letter Carriers, is in session at St. Paul.

forth in declarations, but many persons have been found guilty of failing to declare these little things. Hither to they have gone unpunished, but yesterday a score or more of passengers were taken to the customs house and made to pay duty on property which, if they had not attempted to conceal it, would have been admitted free.
This little punishment will be continued until people learn better ways.

Preacher's Valuable Find.

Carmi, Ill., Aug. 31.—While the Rev.
Ell Crane, a colored minister, was fishing on the banks of the Wabash river he espied a large mussel and opened it. Embedded in the fresh water clam was a fine pearl. It is larger than a gooseberry and Lane values the gem at $1,000. The pearl is peculiarly pointed and is lustrous.

United States, left today for Hankow.

NARROW ESCAPE FROM DEATH

Leaving the Government Steamer at Jarvis Inlet, the Governor General Started For a Stroll in the Woods and, Becoming Lost, Wandered All Night in the Wilds—Finally He Caught the Glimp of a Friendly Indian Campfire and Was Soon Restored to His Friends, Who Had Kept Up a Fruitless Search.Victoria, B. C., Aug. 31.—Governor General of Canada Earl Grey, who has just returned here from Dawson and Skagway by the government steamer Quadra, had a narrow escape from death while lost in the woods of Jervis Inlet last Saturday, during a shooting expedition. He was without companions other than his dog. Earl Grey said he left the Quadra at 5:30, and after penetrating some distance into the woods he lost his way and night came on. When he failed to return for dinner the steamship whistle was kept blowing constantly, fires were built on the beach and search parties were sent out. Meanwhile the governor general clambered over fallen trees, fought his way through undergrowth and slid down rocks in the darkness, tearing his clothing to rags.
Once he came to the edge of a precipice and while feeling his way with an alpenstock, it slipped from his hands and clattered down a considerable distance below.The governor general turned back, and, falling in the darkness to find his way, finally sank back exhausted, after five and a half hours of unavailing effort. He leaned against what he thought was a log, but it proved to be a shadow and he tumbled into the undergrowth. Then the lost man sank down on a flat rock to await daylight and soon afterward saw the reflection of a fire. It was an Indian encampment. He fired his rifle and the shot was heard by a search party, which shouted. When his answering hello was heard the rescuers hurried to him and took him to the shore, where the waiting boat conveyed him quickly to the Quadra.

BIG STRIKE IN SIGHT

Chicago Streetcar Situation Again Grows Acute.Chicago, Aug. 31.—A deadlock on the wage question has been reached by the traction companies of this city and their 10,000 employees. Following the failure to agree upon any one of the several propositions for settlement, the companies formally offered arbitration.Several conferences of union committees have been held today. If the men do not favor the arbitration plan there is apparently nothing for them to do but strike, as the companies intimate they are through proposing wage scales.

Caught at the Crossing.

Kokomo, Ind., Aug. 31.—Jacob Garber, sixteen years old, and Alfred Garber, fourteen years old, were run down by a local car of the Indianapolis Northern traction line. Alfred Garber was killed instantly and his body cut to pieces. Jacob Garber died an hour later from a fracture of the skull at the base of the brain. The boys were driving from their farm home east of the city to Kokomo.

Tried to Kill Sheriff.

Bloomington, Ind., Aug. 31.—The police have failed to find the Italians who shot three times at Sheriff Joseph Ratliff near the Consolidated quarries.
Sheriff Ratliff confiscated two barrels of beer, and was seated on one of the kegs when three shots rang out from a woods nearby. One bullet missed his head by a few feet.

Friends Decline to Give Bond.

Lafayette, Ind., Aug. 31.—Miss Edna Sturn, a professional nurse, who came here several months ago from southern Indiana, is in jail, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Friends of the young woman in this city have declined to go on the bond of Miss Sturn.

He Was Despondent.

Goshen, Ind., Aug. 31.—Daniel H.
Crest of Cromwell, father of a large family, missing since Saturday night, was found dead in a schoolhouse near his home by a son. He was despondent and took morphine.

that auto. Your clothes are full of grease, dirt, cement and dear knows what all. I've tried every chemical cleanser I know, but I can't get them clean." Anty Drudge—"And you've missed the only thing that will make them clean. Fels-Naptha will take out every spot. Try it! You'll see!"Men who drive automobiles are learning that Fels-Naptha is a necessary part of a motoring outfit. It is the only soap that will quickly take oil and grease from their hands and faces in cool or lukewarm water.Most of the women who wash clothes for men who drive or build automobiles learned long ago that Fels-Naptha will take out grease and grime better than any other soap. And Fels-Naptha does it in cool or lukewarm water without boiling the clothes and without hard-rubbing.The Fels-Naptha way of washing is just as modern as the automobile. The progressive woman has said goodbye to the slow-coach, washboiler, hard-rubbing way of washing and has got aboard the time-

Fels-Naptha way of washing.If you don't know the Fels-Naptha

Aids Nature

The great success of Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery in curing weak stomachs, wasted bodies, weak lungs, and obstinate and lingering coughs, is based on the recognition of the fundamental truth that "Golden Medical Discovery" supplies Nature with body-building, tissue-repairing, muscle-making materials, in condensed and concentrated form. With this help Nature supplies the necessary strength to the stomach to digest food, build up the body and thereby throw off lingering obstinate coughs. The "Discovery" re-establishes the digestive and nutritive organs in sound health, purifies and enriches the blood, and nourishes the nerves—in short establishes sound vigorous health.

If your dealer offers something "just as good," it is probably better FOR HIM—it pays better. But you are thinking of the cure not the profit, so there's nothing "just as good" for you. Say so.

HARRIMAN CALLS REPORTERS OFF

Says He Will Tell Them When He's Dying.

Arden, N. Y., Aug. 31.—Urged by weary representatives of the press who have camped about his mountain home since Wednesday last, Edward H. Harriman came out Monday with a statement that he was all right. Though brief, the statement is straightforward and explicit, with perhaps a touch of patient resentment at the surveillance to which he has been subjected and a request that reporters withdraw, not so much for his sake, but for his friends, who have been intercepted daily coming to and from his residence by zealous interviewers eager for the latest bit of information. It concludes thus frankly: "If there should be anything serious I will let the press know, and as I have never deceived them, I ask that the press now withdraw its representatives and rely on me."

The message was so characteristic of Mr. Harriman's affable attitude to newspaper representatives, an attitude which was marked when he underwent the strain of a lengthy interview on the day of his return, that most of the men who have been here during the scare over his illness, returned to New York last night, relying on his word.

A MOTHER'S AGONY

One Child Falls in Well When Two Were Bitten by Rattlesnake.

Deadwood, S. D., Aug. 31.—Within an hour Mrs. Lena Henderson, who lives on a ranch near Sundance, Wyo., lost three children. Mrs. Henderson was alone with her children, the two oldest remaining in the house while she took the baby with her to the well. When she reached the well she heard the older children scream. Leaving the baby, the mother raced to the house, just in time to see a large rattlesnake biting the two children. While caring for them she heard a wail from the baby, and rushed to the well to find it had fallen in. She climbed down and pulled the baby out, but it was dead, and the mother returned with the corpse in time to see the two bitten children expire.

Careless With Her Diamonds.

Chicago, Aug. 31.—Diamonds said to be valued at $12,000 were stolen from Mrs. Adolph Hirsch at the Vendome hotel. Mrs. Hirsch carried the jewels into the dining room at luncheon. They were in a black handbag, which was placed on a vacant chair at her table. She returned to her room and then missed the bag. Upon her return to the dining room the bag was gone.

A NEW TERROR TO LONELY DENTISTS

Bold Holdup Reported From Baltimore.

Baltimore, Aug. 31.—Two young men, pretending to be patients, held up and robbed Dr. Joseph Abramaitis, a dentist, of 545 Columbia avenue, of $13 in cash, a watch and chain valued at $100, and a revolver valued at $5. The men also compelled him to sign a check for $300. Representing that some dental work was needed, one of the men seated himself in the operating chair. While Dr. Abramaitis was selecting his instruments, the other man covered him with a revolver and his companion went through the victim's pockets. As soon as the men left Dr. Abramaitis attempted to summon the police by telephone, but found that the wires had been disconnected.

The men demanded that the check be made payable to the "Black Hundred" of the Russian Terrorists and threatened the dentist with death if the check was not given them, declaring also that his brother, Peter Abramaitis of Mahanoy City, Pa., would also be killed.

Peonage Charges Denied.

New York, Aug. 31.—President Frank N. Hoffstot of the Pressed Steel Car company denies the charges of peonage in connection with his company's attempt to operate its plant at McKees Rocks. He declared that the 1,000 strike-breakers who were taken there two weeks ago had been fully warned of the strike before leaving New York city, and said they had been consistently well taken care of and had been free to quit whenever they chose.

Keene Captured Rich Stake.

Sheepshead Bay, Aug. 31.—James R. Keene's Ben Brush colt Sweep, quoted 4 to 5 in the betting, won the rich Futurity stakes at Sheepshead Bay. The Montpelier stable's candidate, Candleberry, at 3 to 1, second, a length in front of the Keene stable's Grassmere. The time was 1:11 4/5. About 15,000 persons saw the race. The value of the Futurity stakes this year is $31,000.

Not Credited in Washington.

MADAME DE LESSEPS.

Her Noble Behavior at the Time of Her Husband's Conviction.

Never was it more sadly true than in the case of Ferdinand de Lesseps that upon the innocent wife and children of a guilty man disgrace may weigh more heavily than upon the offender. When the first sod was proudly turned at Panama by his young daughter, Ferdinand, how little could she have guessed that the great enterprise of the canal would one day pass from the hands of her father and her father's country to the Americans; or that the career of the world-famous man who had carried the Suez Canal to triumphant completion would close in dishonor!

The death last winter of the Countess de Lesseps at La Chesnaye, the country estate where she had lived for fifteen years in seclusion, recalls anew the poignant and impressive scenes of De Lesseps' downfall. It was there that Madame de Lesseps, the mother of twelve of his thirteen children, awaited, with her family about her, the verdict from Paris.

Both her husband and his eldest son were accused of complicity in frauds of the Panama Canal Company; but the old count, too aged, childish, and physically infirm for such an ordeal, had not been required to appear in person, and he, too, was at La Chesnaye, quietly drowsing in a neighboring room.

One little girl played softly on the piano to soothe him to rest; at his hand, should he wake, were the daily papers—but papers of corresponding dates a year ago; for should any glimmer of comprehension of his position reach him—and the newspapers were filled with denunciations—it might be fatal; nor did his weakened mind perceive the tender deception.

Even his bitterest enemies respected the noble woman who, believing in their innocence until the young man's confession destroyed her faith, had then devoted herself with beautiful dignity, tact and devotion to trying to allay the public indignation, and recall the past services of father and son; the father, she believed, must protect him, saying, with mournful pride:

"They will not dare to touch that glory!"

But when at length the news came, it was that both were sentenced to five years' imprisonment, although she was assured that in the old man's case the sentence would not be carried out. She neither wept nor protested; she seemed dazed at first, then turned to comfort her children; but at intervals they heard her murmuring to herself, half under her breath: "Ferdinand de Lesseps in prison! Truly, I am dreaming."

The glory she lamented had departed, not when it was touched by public condemnation, but when it was first degraded to serve as a decoy to ignorance and a cloak for fraud.

ONE OBSTACLE TO RICHES.

Ice-man's Inability to Please Everybody Has Kept Him Poor.

"I could have got rich long ago," said the ice man, "only for just one thing," according to the New York Sun.

"You know what Sam Weller said at the trial of Bardell against Pickwick, when Serjt. Buzfuz asked him, 'Have you a pair of eyes, Mr. Weller?' 'Yes, I have a pair of eyes,' replied Sam, 'and that's just it. If they were a pair of patent double-million magnifying-glass eyes, you see, my vision's limited.'"

"I might say with Sam, 'And that's just it.' Now, if I had seventy-eight pairs of arms and seventy-eight pairs of legs and seventy-eight horses and wagons, why, then I might be able to deliver ice to everybody just when they wanted it, but as it is it can't be done."

"You see, they all want their ice at the same hour, and when you come to consider that I deliver ice in Umpty-ump street and Stentyn-street and various other streets covering a considerable territory, with many of my customers blocks apart, you see that to deliver ice to all of them at the same time would make it up into a tolerably difficult sort of proposition, but that doesn't make any difference to my customers. They all want their ice when they want it."

"Ice-man," the lady says to me down the dumbwaiter shaft when I get around to her house the best I can do, at a quarter past 10, and I think that's doing pretty well. 'Ice-man,' she says, 'I told you I wanted my ice at 8 o'clock.'"

"Then I try to explain to her that I'm doing the best I can to get it to her at that hour, but—"

"Well," she says, 'I want my ice at 8 o'clock, and if you can't bring it then I shall get another ice-man.'"

"Very likely she does, and you see if I lost all such customers and didn't gain any, why, my ice would melt in the wagon and pretty soon I wouldn't have any customers at all or next to none because the number of customers that a man can deliver ice to all at the same time is really very small."

"Of course it doesn't work out just that way. I lose this customer, but then I gain another who is dissatisfied with her ice-man, and so we keep along with losses and gains about even—just keep along, but that's about all. If I had a hundred pairs of arms and a hundred pairs of legs and so on so as I could deliver to a hundred customers all at the same time, keeping all my new customers and never losing an old customer, why, then I'd be doing something, what? But being as I have only one pair you see my delivery power's limited."

"That's the only thing that has kept me from making a fortune."

MRS. MALAPROP OF TO-DAY.

Modern Rival of Famous Character That Made Sheridan Famous.

In an uptown social circle it is a matter of gossip that a certain charming young woman never lets her mother out of ear shot because the older woman's conversational transports need to be continually checked. She is rich even for New York, but she outdoes all the Mrs. Malaprops in town.

When she returned from Paris last year some one asked her if she had seen the tulletries. "Why, certainly not!" she responded, drawing herself up majestically. "I've too much sense to push in where I am not wanted, and if the tulletries had wanted us to visit them they would have called first. They didn't, did they, Carrie?" she asked, turning to her embarrassed daughter. The latter explained to her mother that the tulletries was a palace of the French kings, and that it was filled with works of art, like the Louvre. The mother thereupon rejoined: "Speaking of works of art, you can break up all the rest if you'll only leave me the belladonna and the dying gladiolus. Did I ever tell you of the artist my daughter met in Rome? He went mad over the shape of her hand, and nothin' would do but he should make a bust of it."

The daughter had one thing to rejoice over, however, and that was that nobody on this side of the Atlantic would be likely to hear of the message that she had heard her mother send to a visitor by a servant in a London hotel.

"Just tell him," she said, gazing languidly through her lorgnon at the card that had been handed to her, "that he'll have to excuse me this time, as just at present I am decomposing on the sofa."—New York Press.

The Annual Siege.

In the spring a woman's fancy lightly turns to cleaning house.

In the spring the soapy water she will vigorously douse

On the window-glass and mirrors, while her husband hies away

To some dingy spot of refuge, to escape the dreful day.

In the spring a newer polish tints the burnished kitchen stove,

In the spring your coats and trousers o'er the alley fence are hove—

(May be "hove" is wrong to use here, but it surely fits the case.)

In the spring a smudge of cobwebs decorates the housewife's face.

In the spring you come home weary, and as through the wreck you creep

You discover there's no dinner and you've not a place to sleep,

And when gently you remark that there might be a saner plan

For house-cleaning, shrills a chorus: "Huh! Well, that's just like a man!"

—Chicago Evening Post.

Ending a Letter.

The simplicity of "yours" as a letter ending would have astonished Jeremy Taylor, whose letters to John Evelyn often wind up with perfect triumphs of complexity in this respect. His best is, "Believe me that I am, in great heartiness and nearness of affection, Dear Sir, your obliged and most affectionate friend and servant, J. Taylor." On other occasions he was "Your most affectionate and endeared friend and servant," or "Your very affectionate friend and hearty servant." Even in his shortest perorations of the kind the "affectionate" and the "servant" are always the two indispensable words. Probably no man, woman or child would combine these two at the end of a letter today.

Romance and Reality.

She planned the man whom she would wed

Should be both brave and good,

Full six feet tall, with curly hair,

Adept at sawing wood,

Combining woman's tenderness

With man's stern hardihood.

His hair was red and straight,

He only made ten plunks per week,

Cared but for what he ate;

And yet she truly thought he made

A husband simply great.

GOOD SHORT STORIES

Former Representative Amos J. Cummings, of New York, was once city editor of the Sun. One Saturday night it was announced that all the saloons were to be closed next day. Cummings called his star reporter, Murray. "Tom," he said, "go out tomorrow and find out if the saloons are selling liquor." It was Thursday when Tom again appeared at his desk. "They were," he reported.

In one of the smaller cities of New England there was an Episcopal church, which had two mission chapels, commonly known as the East End Mission and the North End Mission, from the parts of the city where they were respectively located. One day the rector gave out the notices, in his most distinguished, high-church tone, as follows: "There shall be a service at the North End Mission at 3 o'clock, and at the East End at 5. Children will be baptized at both ends."

Roger, the celebrated French tenor, on one occasion was engaged for the sum of 1,500 francs to sing at the house of a rich financier. Roger sang his first song magnificently; but no one paid him the slightest attention, and the guests talked their loudest. Presently the host thought the time had come for another song, and sent for Roger. He could not be found, and that evening was seen no more. Next day a note came from him, accompanied by the sum of 2,000 francs. The note ran thus: "I have the honor to return the 1,500 francs which I received for singing at your party; and I beg leave to add 500 francs more for having so greatly disturbed the conversation of your guests."

A misguided woman once ventured to remonstrate with Worth, the man milliner, because he charged her $600 for a dress. "The goods," said the lady, "could be bought for $100, and surely the work of making up would be well paid for with $25 more." "Madame," replied the outraged tailor, "go to M. Constant, the painter, and say to him: 'Here is a canvas and colors, value $1. Paint me a picture on that canvas with these paints, and I will pay you 33 1/3 cents.' What would be the answer? 'Madame, this is no payment for an artist.' No, but I say more. If you think my terms are too high, keep the dress and pay me nothing. Art does not descend to the pettiness of haggling." History does not record the lady's reply.

In the first year of his practice, Judge Royce of Vermont was called to prosecute in a justice suit, and, fresh from Chitty, filed a plea in abatement, which he duly discussed. The justice, in deciding the case, said: "The young lawyer has filed what he calls a plea in abatement; now this plaintiff seems to be a very ignorant man, and his lawyer about as ignorant as he is, and his writ doesn't seem to be a very good writ, and doesn't resemble one much more than it does a hog-yoke; but the plaintiff seems to be an honest man, and if he has a just claim against this defendant, he shall have judgment." Whereupon, Judge Royce, elated at the result, but somewhat disgusted with the remarks of the justice, arose, and, making a very profound bow, said to the court, "I much thank you, d-n you."

IN A REVOLUTIONARY CAMP.

Letter of Gen. Greene Discussing Strategies of 1777 in a Sale.

A particularly good letter of Gen. Nathaniel Greene was sold in Philadelphia a few days ago, the New York Times says. It is addressed to Gen. Varnum and is dated "Camp at Cross Roads, Aug. 17, 1777." It is in part:

"I readily acknowledge the propriety of your observation that delays are dangerous, and that the prime of the season is wasting while we are basking in the sunshine of Pennsylvania; but repentance often comes too late. Could we have divined how Gen. Howe would have directed his future operations some part of your plan might have been carried into execution. The destruction of Gen. Burgoyne's army is one of the first objects upon the continent, but how to effect it is the question."

"You see, he moves with caution, notwithstanding our army lies before him. It is now a month since he landed at Skenesborough, his advanced parties have advanced only about twenty or thirty miles and nothing, or next to nothing, to oppose him. Sure I am he never would have dared to penetrate an inch if he had met with a serious opposition."

"Could I persuade myself that Burgoyne would not retreat upon the northern army's being reinforced, I would run all the hazard to attempt his destruction, but I am well persuaded that he would retreat immediately to Ticonderoga, where it would be out of our power to do him any great injury."

"Our situation is not a little awkward, buried in the country out of the hearing of the enemy. His excellency (Washington) is exceedingly impatient, but it is said if Philadelphia is lost all is ruined. It is a great object, to be sure, but not of that great magnitude that it claims."

"Rest assured we shall not remain idle long. This is a curious campaign. In the spring we had the enemy about our ears every hour. The northern army could neither see nor hear of an enemy. Now they have got the enemy about their heads and we have lost ours."

"I can assure you I was no advocate of coming so hastily here, for I ever thought Gen. Howe's motions very equivocal; but the loss of Philadelphia would injure us more than our taking New York would them, and it is not certain our rapid march did not hinder the enemy from coming up the bay to the city. That they were moving about the coast for several days is very certain."

This letter brought $195 at the Philadelphia sale.

"Business Is Business."

The immigrant from southern Europe is often a person of unpromising appearance, but he sometimes displays a surprising amount of intelligence. Not all the queer English of this letter which an alien fruit-dealer recently wrote to the New York Times can conceal its shrewd philosophy and brisk common sense.

It is twenty-seven years I live in the City of New York. I walk all day long in the dangerous streets, never get invested by electric cars nor automobile.

The only blame is mostly of the Persons are sleeping or want too much commodity mistake the streets for the sidewalk.

When you cross a busy street at first watch the automobiles—electric cars etc. Run that moment till you reach the sidewalk and everything will be all right.

Walk slow when you are in the sidewalk but run when you cross the streets.

Time is money. Business is business. Sidewalks for the pedestrians, streets for the cars, automobiles etc.

If a driver have to watch every moment child, sleeping Persons, in the streets take 1/4 day from Harlem to reach the Battery.

About children, instead to waste time to trouble automobiles etc.—why do not make a new Law? One roof garden in every tenement house, and force by Law the Landlords (or Landlady to do it and to send the children in the roof?

I am been plenty times in the roof garden of E. Broadway, corner Jefferson (Manhattan) in the hot months. The children jump, play balls, sing in that little Heaven all glad to enjoy such pleasure; nice shade all around on the top of the roof—plenty flowers all around, water for drink etc.

Patronize the roof gardens—and send the children to play in it—do not sleep when you cross a street and do not be afraid of the automobiles—trucks etc.—Sidewalk for pedestrians—streets for horses, etc. Business is business. Time is money.

The Trolley as a Civilization.

In traveling on those fast, prompt, roomy, modern cars, run smoothly, without jerks over a solid road-bed by courteous employees, it seemed to me that this thing was being done even better here than anywhere in up-to-date Germany. And I recalled, with humiliation, the obsolete conditions generally obtaining to-day among our Eastern trolley systems.

I stopped off wherever fancy dictated, talking to farmers, storekeepers, professional men, traction officials, and railway men—all sorts and conditions of people; but keeping especially on the alert for an experienced, intelligent and communicative conductor.

He was not hard to find.

"What's your line doing for this part of the State?" I asked him.

"Doing?" he echoed. "The line's simply making it! I've been running these interurbans ever since Ohio first saw them, and I can tell you they've brought in a new day for the city, and for the village, and for the country."

"Take this section of the road. When the company was securing the right of way, four years ago, lots of the farmers were afraid of the idea, and asked so much for the lease that the company found it cheaper to buy their whole farms outright and be done with it. To-day many of those same farmers are coming and wanting to buy their farms back again because they see what this thing is doing for their old neighbors."—Success Magazine.

Too Many Clothes, Too Little Brains.

Some society women exhaust so much of their time and energy in catering to their vanity that they have comparatively little left for the things really worth while. Mrs. Grundy has more abject slaves in America than in any other country on the globe. Multitudes of her devotees neglect their children, their homes, and their mental improvement, and resort to all sorts of expedients and extravagances to cater to their vanity.

It is not so much the purpose of this paper to condemn the rich for their wicked extravagance, as to point out the demoralizing influence of their vicious example upon those who cannot afford either luxurious dress or living. Not only much of the discontent and unhappiness, but also a large part of the immorality and crime in this country is due to the influence of the ostentatious flaunting of wealth in the faces of those who are less favored. It is a powerful undermining force in our civilization.

The mere possession of money does not give one the right to debauch his fellows, or to set an example which will make them discontented, unhappy and tempt them to strain to keep up an appearance of wealth, at the possible sacrifice of their integrity and virtue.—Success Magazine.

The Mechanics of Hauteur.

Said he, with despair in his look:

"You carry your neck like a scholar Intent on an upper-shelf book."

Said she: "It's only my collar."

Before photography was applied to stars the highest number catalogued was 457,847. The number of stars the camera will show is estimated at over thirty million.

A pulse counting watch has been invented for the use of physicians and nurses in London. The watch indicates, without mental calculation, the number of beats of the pulse in a minute.

Why do actors so often wear long hair? Perhaps this is the reason: There was once a statute in England under which actors found wandering were liable to be branded through the right ear. The long hair concealed the decoration, and thus the custom was started.

Paris has a cat exchange, a "bourse aux chats." This establishment is situated in a big chamber at the rear of a wine shop. Here are legions of cats of all sizes and color, which are to be seen jumping and heard "miaulment." It is said that the customers are by no means tender-hearted old ladies, but for the most part furriers, glove-makers and cooks. A good sleek "matou" realizes from 2 1/2 cents to 20 cents. The skin has a number of usages and the flesh, according to the story, finds its way into the stewpans of certain restaurants possessing more enterprise than scruple.

A novel method of attaining longevity was practiced by Mrs. Yetta Schulman, who died recently in New York at the advanced age of 105 years. Mrs. Schulman paid no particular attention to points of diet, exercise, sleep, etc., which usually figure largely in rules laid down for those growing old. She believed that the lives of aged persons could be prolonged if they associated constantly, or nearly so, with young people, and she apparently verified her theory, for she spent the greater part of her time in company with children, even taking part in their sports with lively interest.—Leslie's Weekly.

In Baluchistan even the wolves go mad. In his book, "The Frontiers of Baluchistan," G. P. Tate writes: "The shepherds give a strange reason for the epidemic of rabies. According to them it was caused by the wild beasts eating dead larks. In some years, they said, the larks develop extraordinary vitality and pour forth such a flood of songs as they rise on the wing that they become suffocated and fall to the ground dead. A wild animal which eats one of those dead birds infallibly develops rabies. This is a widespread superstition, and seemed not unfamiliar to the natives of India who were with me."

Niagara county farmers are "posting" their lands for the purpose of protecting their crops and cattle from the reckless hunters who violate the game laws and trespass on private property. The "posted lands" law provides a penalty of $25 for defacing any notice or sign put up as a warning to trespassers. It also provides for a fine of $25 exemplary damages for the trespass, besides which fine the plaintiff may recover actual damages, with costs of suit. The state commission recognizes that the posted land is an excellent way for breeding and propagating wild game. Commissioner Whipple has instructed game protectors to assist in enforcing the law whenever lands are posted, and the order will be approved by all true and law-abiding sportsmen.—Utica (N. Y.) Press.

An English firm, whose shipment of goods was delayed in reaching Japan, received the following communication from their newly appointed Japanese agent: "With regard to the matter of escaping the penalty of non-delivery of this—there is only one way to creep round same—by diplomat. We must make a stir of strike occurring in our factory. Of course big untrue. I place my presence on enclosed form of letter and believe this will avoid the trouble of penalty of same. As Mr. — is most religious and competent man, also heavily upright and godly, it fears me that useless to apply for his signature. Please therefore attach same at Yokohama office, making forge. But no cause for fear of prison happenings, as this often happens by merchants of high integrity. But if this involves that your honor look mean and excessive awkward for business purpose. I think more better a little serpentine wisdom of polite manhood and thus found good business edifice." The firm knows as much now about the delay as it did before.

Chinese Scholar on Marriage.

Sir Robert Hart, speaking of marriage and death customs in the far East, tells a story of a great-Chinese scholar and high official who said that our foreign way of letting the young people fall in love and choose and the Chinese way of first marrying and then making acquaintance reminded him of two kettles of water; the first—the foreign—was taken at the boiling point from the fire by marriage and then grew cooler and cooler, whereas the second—the Chinese—was a kettle of cold water put on the fire by wedlock and ever afterward growing warmer and warmer, "so that," said his friend, "after 50 or 60 years we are made in love with each other."—London Tit-Bits.

DISCOURAGED WOMEN.

A Word of Hope for Despairing Ones.

Kidney trouble makes weak, weary, worn women. Backache, hip pains, dizziness, headaches, nervousness, languor, urinary troubles make women suffer untold misery.

Ailing kidneys are the cause, Cure them. Mrs. Irene Tudor, 118 N. Clagg St., Bellefontaine, Ohio, says: "I thought my trouble incurable, as I suffered so long with kidney complaint. I had sharp, agonizing pains and serious urinary trouble. I was tired and depressed and nothing seemed to help me. Finally Doan's Kidney Pills brought relief and soon effected a complete cure."

Real Source of Profit.

A son of Italy was so unfortunate as to face the judge in the police night court in New York not long ago, according to Judge.

"What do you do, Tony?" the judge asked, in a kindly tone, not being hurried, as it happened, and perhaps touched by the liquid softness of Tony's dark eyes.

"Maka da music wid da fina street piano—oh, very fina music!" Tony said, with a bright smile.

"How much do you make in a week?"

"There was a flash of white teeth.

"Maka da much money—fifteen, maybe twenty dol'."

"What? Get twenty dollars for playing a street piano?" the astonished judge demanded.

"No, notta for play," the music master admitted; "mabe geta two dol' for play—geta rest for shut up noise an' get off block!"

Well Supplied.

"I find it hard to kill time," declared the pampered pet. "I only have my music, you know. How do you manage?"

"Oh, I do very well," answered the other girl. "In addition to my music, I have my sweeping, my dusting, my sewing and my dishwashing."—Louisville Courier Journal.

BAD DREAMS

Caused by Coffee.

"I have been a coffee drinker, more or less, ever since I can remember, until a few months ago I became more and more nervous and irritable, and finally I could not sleep at night, for I was horribly disturbed by dreams of all sorts and a species of distressing nightmare."

"Finally, after hearing the experience of numbers of friends who had quit coffee and were drinking Postum, and learning of the great benefits they had derived, I concluded coffee must be the cause of my trouble, so I got some Postum and had it made strictly according to directions."

"I was astonished at the flavor and

LOOKING FOR THE MILLENNIUM

It's Advent Not Far Off, Say These.

DATE SET FOR THE YEAR 1914

"After Times of Great Trouble," to Be Experienced Within the Next Five Years, a Thousand Years of Righteousness Will Be Ushered in, the Earth to Be Transformed into a Paradise—Believers in This Tenet Have Met in Annual Convention Today at Saratoga.

Saratoga, N. Y., Aug. 31.—Gathered here from several states for their annual conference which began today are the believers in the early dawn of the Millennium. For four days services will be held in Convention hall. The followers of the sect believe that in 1914, "after times of great trouble," the world is to be transformed into a paradise. They profess to find their foundation for this belief in the study of Scripture prophecies, which form the principal theme of study at the meetings here.

The conference is under the auspices of the Watch Tower Bible and Tract society. The organization's headquarters are in Brooklyn, the leader being Pastor Charles T. Russell of the Brooklyn Tabernacle, and the convention, upon concluding its meetings here next Friday, will adjourn to the city for the final services on Sunday.

MORE PROPHECIES

"The Holy Ghost and Us" Folks Also Fixing For Millennium.

Rockland, Me., Aug. 31.—Announcing his purpose to establish a chain of missions from Panama to the Arctic for the evangelization of the American continent, and denying having made any prophecy about the world coming to an end, Rev. Frank W. Sanford, leader of the famous sect known as the Holy Ghost and Us, today granted his first extended interview since departing on his world cruise of 30,000 miles three years ago.

He said in part: "I have already knowledge that three more ships will be added to our fleet (which now consists of the yacht Coronet, the barkentine Kingdom, and two small craft, the Ripple and Overcomer).

"Earthquakes will be sent by the Lord to bring men to their senses; tidal waves with fearful violence will sweep along the coasts of earth, till men in their fright will die of heart failure; stars will fall from heaven like falling figs in a tempest; war and pestilence and famine and many other similar agencies will be brought by the commander-in-chief of heaven and earth to conquer this globe, to conquer hearts, to bring the lofty looks of man down, and to make emphatic the fact that Christ is Lord indeed."

Speaking of his return two weeks ago from the world tour, he said:
"We were fairly besieged to go to our great center (Shiloh). Much as we desired to see our loved ones, we must continue our career of conquest along the coast of our native state until such time as God himself permits us to go up."

Victim of Highwaymen.

Gulfport, Miss., Aug. 31.—Lumbermen arriving here from the Nugent section, ten miles north of Gulfport, report that three highwaymen held up an employe of the Ingram-Day Lumber company near there and, after robbing him of $40, stuffed his mouth with rags and tied him securely to a tree in the woods. The man remained in this position for almost forty-eight hours without food or water and suffering agony from the numerous bites of gnats and mosquitos. It was several hours before he could be revived by rescuers.

Amsterdam Is Apprehensive.

The Hague, Aug. 31.—Several cases of suspected cholera have occurred at Amsterdam, and the recurrence of cases at different points without apparent connection causes anxiety.
Ninety persons are now under observation, and the health boards here and at other cities are taking the strictest precautions. Tests are being made of the rivers and other water supplies.
One fatal case of suspected cholera is reported at Arnhem.

Native Rebels Put Down.

Batavia, Java, Aug. 31.—Sharp punishment has been inflicted upon the rebels of the island of Flores by a Dutch detachment, fifteen members of which were killed in an ambush set by the natives. The Dutch sent for reinforcements and attacked the rebels fiercely. The natives had 117 men killed.

Taking Chances With Death.

New York, Aug. 31.—Despite the tragedies of the recent motor races at Indianapolis and those at Brighton Beach racetrack last week, a statement from the Motor Racing association announces that another twenty-four-hour speed carnival will be held at Brighton Beach this fall.

Why Druggists Recommend Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

Mr. Frank C. Hanrahan, a prominent druggist of Portsmouth, Va., says: "For the past six years I have sold and recommended Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.
It is a great remedy and one of the best patent medicines on the market.
I handle some others for the same purposes that pay me a larger profit, but this remedy is so sure to effect a cure, and my customer so certain to appreciate my recommending it to him, that I give it the preference."

Water and Freezing.

Although water is supposed to freeze at 32 degrees, you need not try to make ice at that temperature. All you will get in a tubful will be a thin outer shell filled with very wet water. Sea water freezes at 27 degrees nominally, and the ice is always fresh. One of the old and very common beliefs is that hot water freezes more quickly than cold. This is a nature fake. Another false belief is that impurities are frozen out of the ice, yet we all ought to know that some ice is so impure that its water is dangerous to drink. Most people will insist that it is the thawing of ice in frozen pipes that bursts them.
Wrong. The freezing does the bursting; the thaw exposes the damage.

A Sprained Ankle.

As usually treated a sprained ankle will disable the injured person for a month or more, but by applying Chamberlain's Liniment and observing the directions with each bottle faithfully, a cure may, in most cases, be effected in less than one week's time. This liniment is a most remarkable preparation; try it for a sprain or a bruise, or when laid up with chronic or muscular rheumatism, and you are certain to be delighted with the relief which it affords. For sale by C. W. Milhous.

Modern Chemistry.

The foundation of modern chemistry was laid in the beginning of the eighteenth century by Hales and Boerhaave. In 1772 Priestley published his researches on air, having discovered oxygen, ammonia, etc., thus beginning a new chemical era. Priestley was ably seconded by Cavendish, Lavoisier, Chaptal and others, and with the opening of the nineteenth century came the brilliant discoveries of Davy, Dalton, Faraday and others, which placed the science upon its present solid footing.

Best Treatment for a Burn.

If for no other reason, Chamberlain's Salve should be kept in every household on account of its great value in the treatment of burns. It allays the pain almost instantly, and unless the injury is a severe one, heals the wound without leaving a scar.
This salve is also unequalled for chapped hands, sore nipples and diseases of the skin. Price, 25 cents.
For sale by C. W. Milhous.

The Uses of Peat.

According to Peat, peat does not form a very good fuel on account of its lightness, the intensity of the heat, which is not lasting; the small quantity of organic matter and the large quantity of mineral matter and water it contains. It is good for stable bedding and packing purposes. It is used also in the manufacture of paper. In this respect it may be observed that some of the most artistic pictorial post cards sold in Ireland are a product of peat and form a most successful groundwork for picturesque scenes, with which the country abounds.

Good for Billiousness.

"I took two of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets last night, and I feel fifty per cent. better than I have for weeks," says J. J. Firestone, of Allegan, Mich. "They are certainly a fine article for billiousness." For sale by C. W. Milhous. Samples free.

The Origin of Phoenix Park.

The origin of the name of Phoenix park, Dublin, has puzzled many scholars unacquainted with the Irish language. The name was called in the Irish vernacular Fionn-cuise, pronounced finniskie, which signifies clear or fair water and which articulated in the brief English manner exactly resembled the word phoenix. The spring or well so called from which the park derives its name still exists close to the Dublin entrance of the vice regal lodge. It is situated in a glen beside the lower lake and is one of the romantic objects of the park.

Why?

From a small beginning the sale and use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy has extended to all parts of the United States and to many foreign countries.
Why? Because it has proved especially valuable for coughs and colds.
For sale by C. W. Milhous.

Forty or more representatives of Japanese chambers of commerce are due to reach Seattle on Thursday, and soon thereafter will start on a journey of inspection throughout the country.

SUMMER FRILLS.

How to Keep the Summer Wardrob Fresh and Dainty.

Lingerie waists should be pressed when they are mused and not soiled, but if they are stained with perspiration, be it ever so little, do not press them. Wash them at once, and if they are delicate or old sew them up in an old pillowslip while you are doing it.

Clean your white shoes with gasoline, then when it has wholly evaporated wash them in peroxide of hydrogen and set in the sun to dry.

If you get grass stains on any cotton or linen fabric rub it with black solantes, then wash in the regular way.

If you have a lot of Irish lace jabots or collars, after they are washed pick out each figure and pick with a fine crochet hook. That's what the professionals do.

Chamois gloves may be washed in a lukewarm lather of white soapsuds.
Wash through soapy water twice, pat and squeeze, but do not wring hard; rinse well in lukewarm water, wrap in a heavy towel until most of the water is out, then hang up to dry. Do not wring or squeeze the water out.

When they are dry rub between the hands until they are soft and pliable, stretch with the glove stretcher, and they will be like new.

If you have dropped grease on a white dress and there is no cleaning stuff at hand rub the spot with talcum powder, brush out, rub the powder in again and leave the spot overnight, liberally covered with talcum. It will take it almost all out.

Run a basting thread with long stitches in your plaited jabots before laundering. It will save a lot of trouble when they are ready for ironing.

If your pink linen dress shows signs of fading boil it with a square of turkey red calico and it will come out like new.

Iron rust stains must be rubbed with lemon and salt and held in the steam of a rapidly boiling kettle. This is much quicker and better than the old way of laying the spot in the sun.

Most people know that one can touch up faded artificial flowers with water color paints or oil paints mixed with gasoline, but pink flowers can be touched up with rouge and look much better than do cheeks painted with the same stuff.

Blue linen frocks should be put through a dark blue water and have a little bluing put into the starch to keep them looking unfaded. All colored clothing should be dried in the shade.

Silk and lisle gloves wash readily in lukewarm suds made of good white soap. They should be well rinsed, squeezed in a towel and hung up to dry.

A soiled chiffon veil or scarf may be laundered in exactly the same way as the gloves, taking care not to wring or squeeze it. The dirt must be gently patted out. While still wet it must be planned in its proper shape on a table or bed, and after it is dry the edge may be pressed with a warm iron.

If one will carefully darn the toes and heels of the thin lisle and silk stockings with a fine silk thread before wearing they will wear much longer. The stitches must be taken only up and down in parallel rows, not across.

HINTS FOR HOUSEWIVES.

White pepper will be found preferable to black in seasoning chicken soup.

For brushing down stairs a stiff plain brush is better than a whisk broom.

A few chopped almonds added to a custard or bread pudding will greatly improve its flavor.

A cereal pan is much more easily cleaned if cold water is allowed to run in it as soon as the cereal is removed. Hot water hardens the mixture.

Canvas shoes may be cleaned with soap and water if one works quickly, so that the moisture does not penetrate the canvas. Make a thick lather with pure white soap and warm water.

To clean white marble, wash it thoroughly with soap and water, then brush it over well, especially in the crevices, with whitening mixed with a little blue as used for ceilings. Allow it to dry thoroughly and then polish with a clean, dry cloth.

To clean suede gloves put the gloves on "trees" or on your hands and rub them well with fine oatmeal, which should finally be brushed off with a soft nailbrush. Any obstinate stains may be removed with benzine applied on a piece of clean flannel.

If you find the hardwood floor is sticky after being treated with the usual preparation of boiled oil and turpentine, get a pail of strong elder vinegar, wring a cloth out of this, and wipe the floor with the strong acid.
It will improve it in a short time.

The Pesky Fly.

The pesky fly now makes you swear by crawling, crawling everywhere, says an exchange. He wipes his feet upon the bread and creeps about your hairless head. Within the milk he takes a bath and in the butter makes a path, and then he angers Mary Jane by specking up the window pane, and mamma yells and baby squirms because he leaves those awful germs.

Alcohol For Vells.

Some persons keep their vells in condition by dipping them in alcohol several times and then hanging up indoors to dry. The alcohol gives the vell a desirable stiffness, which will add to its days of usefulness.

CONCERNING WOMEN.

Lady Laurier, in speaking of the women of Canada recently, said that it still is fashionable there, "be you rich or poor, plain or aristocratic, to be known in your community as a fine housekeeper."

Mrs. Nicholas Longworth was one of the first women in the country to wear a "rat," and it is said she wore the biggest ones too. The fact that she no longer wears a pompadour, but dresses her hair in the simplest fashion, is proof positive of the fact that this is now the style.

The smart houses of London now have waitresses and parlor maids where manservants were once in demand. It is found that the women are much more ornamental in their black frocks and white aprons and caps. The caterers supply them, and it looks more like the servants of the house when the retinue appears. The women do the work as well, if not better, and the caterers find they are more likely to be permanent and can be depended upon.

Miss Lillian Roff is the first woman to take the degree of bachelor of divinity in the London university. She entered for the examination against the wishes of many members of the faculty, as only a few women have ever desired the degree. Miss Roff, however, persisted in going in for the distinction. The examination is unusually rigid. Miss Roff was the only woman in fifty taking the examination, and she came out with the highest percentage.

At St. Paneras, in England, there is a school where fathers are taught to take care of the house and the children in anticipation of the time when women go out to do the work and men must sit at home and mind the house.
There used to be a time when a man out of a job would have to let his wife go out and do washing or cleaning and when she came home at night she would have to get her own house in order. Now the men will be expected to do that for their wives. The course in housekeeping will also be of benefit to men whose wives are sick or absent.

Mrs. Robley D. Evans, wife of "Fighting Bob," lets in a curious little beam of sidelight on American naval history in a story to one of her friends in Washington, telling how it came to pass the wives of officers were barred from accompanying them on warships.
When she was young, Mrs. Evans says, a defeated South American revolutionist sneaked aboard an American battleship when it was in one of the tropical ports on a neutral mission. Making his way to the wife of the commander, he told such a tale of his wrongs that she consented to hide him in the ship's hold. It was not until he was many miles out at sea that the commander learned the revolutionist was stowed aboard. In violation, of course, of international law. There was a mighty outcry, Mrs. Evans says, when the facts reached Washington.
The authorities then made the rule banishing women from warships.

A Good Poultice.

A good poultice that gives relief in many kinds of sudden pain is one well known to our grandmothers, but now little used because few know how to make it. It is made from dried hops.

Put a cupful of the hops in a cup of hot water and let it boil until the water is reduced to half a cup, then str in enough cornmeal to thicken.

Apply very hot between thin muslin cloths. Poultices when needed at night can be made on an alcohol lamp with a tin cup on top. A new poultice can be heated in this while the old one is cooling on the patient. It saves many trips to the kitchen.
